

Lamentations 5

Englische King James Version von 1611/1769 mit Strongs

1 Remember^{H2142}, O LORD^{H3068}, what is come upon us: consider^{H5027}, and behold^{H7200} our reproach^{H2781}. 2 Our inheritance^{H5159} is turned^{H2015} to strangers^{H2114}, our houses^{H1004} to aliens^{H5237}. 3 We are orphans^{H3490} and fatherless^{H369 H1}, our mothers^{H517} are as widows^{H490}. 4 We have drunken^{H8354} our water^{H4325} for money^{H3701}; our wood^{H6086} is sold^{H935 H4242} unto us.¹ 5 Our necks^{H6677} are under persecution^{H7291}: we labour^{H3021}, and have no rest^{H5117}. 2 6 We have given^{H5414} the hand^{H3027} to the Egyptians^{H4714}, and to the Assyrians^{H804}, to be satisfied^{H7646} with bread^{H3899}. 7 Our fathers^{H1} have sinned^{H2398}, and are not^{H369}; and we have borne^{H5445} their iniquities^{H5771}. 8 Servants^{H5650} have ruled^{H4910} over us: there is none that doth deliver^{H6561} us out of their hand^{H3027}. 9 We gat^{H935} our bread^{H3899} with the peril of our lives^{H5315} because^{H6440} of the sword^{H2719} of the wilderness^{H4057}. 10 Our skin^{H5785} was black^{H3648} like an oven^{H8574} because^{H6440} of the terrible^{H2152} famine^{H7458}. 3 11 They ravished^{H6031} the women^{H802} in Zion^{H6726}, and the maids^{H1330} in the cities^{H5892} of Judah^{H3063}. 12 Princes^{H8269} are hanged up^{H8518} by their hand^{H3027}: the faces^{H6440} of elders^{H2205} were not honoured^{H1921}. 13 They took^{H5375} the young men^{H970} to grind^{H2911}, and the children^{H5288} fell^{H3782} under the wood^{H6086}. 14 The elders^{H2205} have ceased^{H7673} from the gate^{H8179}, the young men^{H970} from their musick^{H5058}. 15 The joy^{H4885} of our heart^{H3820} is ceased^{H7673}; our dance^{H4234} is turned^{H2015} into mourning^{H60}. 16 The crown^{H5850} is fallen^{H5307} from our head^{H7218}: woe^{H188} unto us, that we have sinned^{H2398}.⁴

17 For this our heart^{H3820} is faint^{H1739}; for these things our eyes^{H5869} are dim^{H2821}. 18 Because of the mountain^{H2022} of Zion^{H6726}, which is desolate^{H8074}, the foxes^{H7776} walk^{H1980} upon it. 19 Thou, O LORD^{H3068}, remainest^{H3427} for ever^{H5769}, thy throne^{H3678} from generation^{H1755} to generation^{H1755}. 20 Wherefore dost thou forget^{H7911} us for ever^{H5331}, and forsake^{H5800} us so long^{H753} time^{H3117}?⁵ 21 Turn^{H7725} thou us unto thee, O LORD^{H3068}, and we shall be turned^{H7725}, renew^{H2318} our days^{H3117} as of old^{H6924}. 22 But thou hast utterly^{H3988} rejected^{H3988} us; thou art very^{H3966} wroth^{H7107} against us.⁶
