

Psalm 137

Englische King James Version von 1611/1769 mit Strongs

1 By the rivers^{H5104} of Babylon^{H894}, there we sat down^{H3427}, yea, we wept^{H1058}, when we remembered^{H2142} Zion^{H6726}. 2 We hanged^{H8518} our harps^{H3658} upon the willows^{H6155} in the midst^{H8432} thereof. 3 For there they that carried us away captive^{H7617} required^{H7592} of us a song^{H1697 H7892}; and they that wasted^{H8437} us required of us mirth^{H8057}, saying, Sing^{H7891} us one of the songs^{H7892} of Zion^{H6726}. 4 How shall we sing^{H7891} the LORD'S^{H3068} song^{H7892} in a strange^{H5236} land^{H127}? 5 If I forget^{H7911} thee, O Jerusalem^{H3389}, let my right hand^{H3225} forget^{H7911} her cunning. 6 If I do not remember^{H2142} thee, let my tongue^{H3956} cleave^{H1692} to the roof of my mouth^{H2441}; if I prefer^{H5927} not Jerusalem^{H3389} above my chief^{H7218} joy^{H8057}.

7 Remember^{H2142}, O LORD^{H3068}, the children^{H1121} of Edom^{H123} in the day^{H3117} of Jerusalem^{H3389}, who said^{H559}, Rase^{H6168} it, rase^{H6168} it, even to the foundation^{H3247} thereof.⁵ 8 O daughter^{H1323} of Babylon^{H894}, who art to be destroyed^{H7703}, happy^{H835} shall he be, that rewardeth^{H7999} thee as thou hast served^{H1580 H1576} us.⁶⁷ 9 Happy^{H835} shall he be, that taketh^{H270} and dasheth^{H5310} thy little ones^{H5768} against the stones^{H5553}.
